The World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 disease, also known as the coronavirus, a pandemic on March 11, 2020.

To help slow the spread of COVID-19 in New York State, Governor Andrew Cuomo issued an executive order that resulted in the majority of the workshops and programs in the Spring 2020 Program Guide being moved to an online format, canceled, or postponed until a later date.

Established in 1978, NYC Parks GreenThumb is proud to be the nation’s largest urban gardening program, assisting over 550 gardens and over 20,000 volunteer gardeners on 100 combined acres of open space throughout New York City. GreenThumb’s mission is to support and educate community gardens across the five boroughs while preserving open space. By providing free garden materials, technical assistance, educational workshops, and seasonal programs, GreenThumb supports neighborhood volunteers who steward community gardens that are active resources that strengthen communities.

Starting Seedlings: Basics, Techniques, and Tips for Seed Germination

Bronx River Alliance and GreenThumb

Meet neighbors and friends for this introduction to seed starting! This class will review the basics of seed starting with an opportunity to start seedlings for your garden. Learn techniques and tips that will ensure a successful start to your growing season. This workshop is offered in partnership with the Bronx River Foodway, a project that examines how a sustainable food landscape can be integrated into a public park.

Currently the Foodway offers access to a variety of edible plants including medicinal plants like echinacea, nut trees like the chestnut, an assortment of native berries, as well as a section dedicated to kitchen herbs and recognizable veggies.

Organizing for Garden Success: Group Structure (Part 1 of 2)
GreenThumb

Disorganization creates dysfunction. This two-part workshop series is designed to help your garden group build a strong foundation to deal with the many issues that arise in a community space. In this workshop, we will discuss different styles of group structure and how they can help alleviate stressful decision-making and garden governance issues. Registered GreenThumb gardeners who attend both sessions will be eligible to receive a free book to share with their garden group (one per garden group in good standing, while supplies last).

Pre-registration required at nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb or by calling (212) 602-5300. Please bring a photo ID and allow time to get through security.

Design and Placekeeping (Part 1 of 2)
GreenThumb

Placekeeping and placemaking are a collaborative, hands-on process centered on the care and maintenance of a place and its social fabric by community members. In this two-part workshop series, you will learn how to incorporate these principles into your garden and how to creatively tackle your design challenge with some practical guidelines that you can use with your group and the communities you serve. Part I will discuss placemaking and placekeeping as processes that can be applied to creating more inclusive public spaces and keeping cultural memories of the garden alive by working collectively.

Organizing for Garden Success: Bylaws (Part 2 of 2)

Disorganization creates dysfunction. This two-part workshop series is designed to help your garden group build a strong foundation to deal with the many issues that arise in a community space. In this workshop, we will discuss writing garden bylaws that outline processes for decision-making and garden governance, and that will satisfy the GreenThumb requirement for bylaws. Registered GreenThumb gardeners from gardens in good standing who attend both sessions will be eligible to receive a free book to share with their garden group (one per garden group, while supplies last).

Pre-registration required at nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb or by calling (212) 602-5300. Please bring a photo ID and allow time to get through security.

Open Orchard School: Pruning an Overgrown Fruit Tree

The Trust for Governors Island, Sam Van Aken (The Open Orchard), Trees NY, and GreenThumb

Does your community garden have fruit trees that have gotten so tall that the fruit is impossible to reach? Join fruit tree experts to learn strategies for bringing overgrown fruit trees back down to a manageable size for an abundant harvest.

This workshop is part of the Open Orchard School, a year-long series of educational programs co-presented by NYC Parks GreenThumb and The Trust for Governors Island. For more information about the project and workshop series, please see the announcements section on page 17 or visit bit.ly/GreenThumbTrainings.

GreenThumb Trainings in 2020

Dig deep and further your gardening knowledge and leadership skills with GreenThumb! We are offering a number of new educational trainings this year. Most (but not all) of these trainings are reserved for members of registered GreenThumb community gardens.

Please review each program for applicable details, dates, and application requirements at bit.ly/GreenThumbTrainings or call us at (212) 602-5300.

WEBINAR
Carbon Sponge: Gardening to Mitigate Climate Change
Healthy soil stores carbon from the atmosphere in a process called carbon sequestration, which can help mitigate greenhouse gas emissions. What can you do to increase carbon sequestration at your garden? Join soil scientists, artists, and educators who have been collaborating on a project called Carbon Sponge to develop methods for “urban carbon farming.” This workshop series will include a basic introduction to soil science regenerative agriculture and traditional indigenous techniques, as well as demonstrate hands-on tools for measuring your garden’s carbon and the wide-ranging benefits for your community garden.

WEBINAR
Chicken Care
What does it take to keep chickens in a community garden? In this training, gardeners from gardens in good standing will learn the basics of chicken care, chicken health and biology, coop construction and maintenance, and more. Gardeners who complete the training and volunteer for at least six hours with a community garden that already keeps chickens will be eligible to receive a brand new chicken coop! We encourage gardeners to apply with two to three members from the garden.

WEBINAR
Community Chef Training
Have you ever wanted to create engaging food demos for your community garden? Just Food's Community Chef Training will teach GreenThumb gardeners effective facilitation skills and culinary techniques to prepare nutritious, culturally relevant, and easy meals at their community gardens. As part of the training, the cohort will work on completing their food safety certificate and build a recipe book to share with their garden group.

WEBINAR
Compost Apprenticeship with Earth Matter
Does your garden’s compost system need a boost? GreenThumb is sponsoring 10 community gardeners to participate in Earth Matter’s adult apprenticeship program at Governors Island. With a main focus on building sustainable compost operations, this training will also include growing veggies and public engagement.

WEBINAR
GreenThumb Pruning Brigade with Trees New York
GreenThumb has reserved a limited number of seats for community gardeners from gardens in good standing to get certified as Citizen Pruners through the Trees New York Citizen Pruner course. After getting certified, GreenThumb citizen pruners will be asked to complete eight supervised volunteer hours to help with minor pruning needs at other community gardens. Gardeners who get their certification and complete the eight hours will receive a set of pruning tools and a hard hat, and be asked to join a new group of GreenThumb volunteers dedicated to helping with the pruning needs of community gardens throughout the city.

WEBINAR
Growing Vegetables in NYC
Get the most out of your garden plot this season. In this six-week training, Amara Ullauri (KCC Urban Farm) will introduce the basics of crop planning, prepping your soil, starting seeds, record keeping, harvesting, and organic pest management. Gardeners from gardens in good standing who complete the training will receive a basic set of gardening hand tools.

Herbal Allies in the Garden
Awaken this growing season by welcoming herbal plant allies in your gardens. In this course we will explore the many properties of common garden herbs and flowers, learn basic propagation methods, and discuss proper plant care strategies. We will use dried herbs to familiarize ourselves with these plants using herbal infusions such as teas, oils, syrups, and salves.

WEBINAR

Latin American Foodways
During this workshop series, Community Chef Yadira Garcia (Happy Healthy Latina) will share culinary history of dishes from the Latinx diaspora. Trainings will focus on the history of dish and/or foodways, as well as demos on how to cook these dishes nutritiously.

WEBINAR

Open Orchard School with the Trust for Governors Island
The Open Orchard School is a year-long series of educational programs co-presented by NYC Parks GreenThumb and the Trust for Governors Island.

Through the Open Orchard School, community gardeners and members of the public will learn practical skills related to the project, including in-depth experience with fruit tree care, cultivation, planting, and grafting. Participants who complete multiple workshops can become part of the team working to ensure the ongoing stewardship of the trees as they put down roots across the city.

By the fall of 2020, garden groups in good standing that have sent representatives to at least four of the eight workshops may be eligible to receive one or more multi-grafted fruit trees from The Open Orchard to plant in their gardens, subject to approval from GreenThumb.

The Open Orchard School is an extension of The Open Orchard, an expansive new artwork by Sam Van Aken on Governors Island that will take the form of a public orchard of 50 hybrid fruit trees. Each individual tree will contain multiple varieties of peaches, plums, apricots, nectarines, cherries, and apples that were historically grown in the New York City region over the past 500 years, but which have been lost to climate change and the industrialization of agriculture, preserving their biodiversity for future generations.

WEBINAR

The Soul of Food: Tracing the Origins of Southern Crops and Foodways
During this weekly, hands-on workshop series with Maya Stansberry (KCC Urban Farm) we will delve into the history of fundamental crops that define Southern cuisine. Alongside discussion of the agricultural and culinary histories of this cuisine, we’ll prepare Southern dishes to develop a deeper understanding of our relationship to these foods and celebrate the culinary legacy of the African diaspora.

CANCELED

Urban Seed Stewardship
During this training, gardeners will learn seed saving techniques with Reclaim Seed NYC through classroom instruction, fieldwork visits, and hands-on experience stewarding seeds. This training will provide participants with the knowledge and skills necessary for seedling a community of change within their gardens by envisioning a decolonized relationship to seed, defining their urban seedkeeping practice, understanding the botany and horticulture skills applied in seed saving, developing planting plans for seed saving from sowing to storage. We will explore the history of seed in New York City from pre-colonization to our current industrialized food system. Participants will explore the history of consolidation and control of seed, the importance of stewarding regionally and culturally significant seed, how to build and contribute to resilience in their community gardens, and how to determine if a seed source is reputable and responsible.

GreenThumb Youth Leadership Council Program

The GreenThumb Youth Leadership Council (YLC) is now accepting applications from youth ages 12–21 who are interested in gardening, community organizing, and civic leadership! Learn firsthand from community gardeners in New York City how to maintain and grow a healthy garden through various projects like carpentry, composting, and more.

In past years, the program graduation celebration has been held at the United Nation Headquarters.

Apply to join the YLC today bit.ly/YLCYouth20! For more information, contact Rasheed Hislop at (212) 602-5308 or Rasheed.Hislop@parks.nyc.gov.

GreenThumb’s “Help a Garden Grow” Program Seeks Volunteers for Garden Projects

*Volunteer events were put on hold

Join hands with GreenThumb gardeners across the city with your corporate, school, or other community group as a volunteer for one or multiple days! Volunteer groups can help strengthen community gardens by weeding, spreading woodchips, planting flowers, bulbs or shrubs, hosting garden clean-ups, building raised beds, providing general maintenance within the gardens, and other special projects. By working with gardens, volunteers can participate in sustainability, valuable placekeeping, and enriching the cultural fabric of NYC.

For more information or to volunteer with your group at a GreenThumb garden, contact Project and Design Coordinator Babbie Dunnington at Babbie.Dunnington@parks.nyc.gov or at (212) 602-5330.

GreenThumb gardens can request a volunteer workday by contacting their outreach coordinator. For more information, email greenthumbinfo@parks.nyc.gov or call (212) 602-5300.
Upcoming Events

Make sure to mark your calendar for these fun events happening later this year.

Open Garden Day NYC – June 20
THIS EVENT WAS RESCHEDULED TO AUG. 1ST AND WILL BE HELD VIRTUALLY.

We are seeking community gardens across the city to participate in the third annual Open Garden Day NYC by opening their gates to the public from 11:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, June 20 (rain or shine). Your garden group can join by hosting a free activity or event for the public to enjoy. Activities can include arts and crafts, music performances, composting, planting, a food demonstration, or feel free to suggest your own activity. Last year, over 100 gardens participated, with activities such as making medicinal herbal products, holding a yoga class, learning about gardening, and hosting musical performances.

If you would like to participate, please fill out the form at bit.ly/OpenGardenDayNYC2020 by Friday, April 24. Participating gardens will receive support from NYC Parks GreenThumb with marketing and publicity.

Make Music New York – June 21
CANCELED

Bring music into your garden on June 21 as part of Make Music New York, held annually on the Summer Solstice, the longest day of the year. Each year this festival brings music to public spaces throughout the city! To have your garden host a performance, please sign up at bit.ly/MMNY2020SignUp or go to nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb for more information.

Harvest Fair
WILL BE HELD VIRTUALLY

Mark your calendars for GreenThumb’s 41st Annual Harvest Fair on Saturday, Sept. 26!

Grow More Vegetables Certificate Series

New York Botanical Garden – Bronx Green-Up

The Grow More Vegetables Certificate Series is an edible gardening course designed to equip community gardeners, teachers, and city residents with the best organic techniques for growing vegetables safely and effectively, particularly in an urban setting. The program consists of six classes, both in the classroom and with hands-on gardening instruction in the field. Each student will have the opportunity to design their own urban vegetable gardening project as a final component of the course. The projects are open-ended with two main goals: to grow more food and to pass on what will have been learned to an identified group in your community.

Applications are due by Feb. 3. Priority will be given to Bronx community gardeners, but others are welcome if space allows. For an application or more information, call (718) 817-8026 or email bronxgreenup@nybg.org

GreenThumb Safe Soil Gardening Requirements

Prevent heavy metals from entering your food by adhering to the GreenThumb requirement of growing food crops in containers or raised beds lined with landscaping fabric and filled with clean topsoil and compost. This minimizes the likelihood of contact with potentially contaminated soil. In addition, please observe the following guidelines:

- Keep all play areas, seating areas, pathways, and other areas with exposed soil covered in mulch (e.g., wood chips), grass, or another ground cover.
- Add organic matter such as compost to your soil. Organic particles will bind with metals and help prevent them from being absorbed by your plants.
- Every fall or spring, fill each raised bed back to the top with a couple inches of compost and spread a couple inches of new wood chips over the garden paths.
- Build double raised beds if you plan to grow root vegetables or any vegetables with deep roots such as tomatoes, kale, collards, corn, and squash, which ensures that fruit and vegetable crops have enough space for their roots to grow without contact or intermingling with existing site soils. A single-level raised bed is fine for herbs and baby leafy greens such as arugula.
- Wear gloves when gardening and thoroughly wash hands after gardening. Shake off any excess soil from boots and clothes before going home.
- Thoroughly wash produce and peel root vegetables before eating.

Requisitos de Jardinería de GreenThumb para Suelos Seguros

Evite que los metales pesados ingresen a su alimento al adherirse al requisito de GreenThumb para cultivar alimentos en recipientes o camas elevadas forradas con tela de jardinería y llenas de tierra limpia y abono. Esto reduce la probabilidad de contacto con tierra potencialmente contaminada. También, recomendamos las siguientes pautas:

- Mantenga todas las áreas de juego y para sentarse, y los senderos donde el suelo está expuesto cubiertos con astillas de madera, pasto, o cualquier tipo de cubierta natural.
- Agregue materia orgánica como abono a su tierra. Las partículas orgánicas se unen con los metales y ayudan a evitar que sean absorbidas por sus plantas.
- Durante el otoño y la primavera, llene nuevamente cada cama de cultivo elevada hasta el tope con dos pulgadas de abono y esparza dos pulgadas de astillas de madera nuevas sobre los senderos del jardín.
- Construya camas de cultivo elevadas dobles si va a cultivar tubérculos o cualquier otra verdura con raíces profundas como tomates, col rizada, coles, maíz y calabacín. Esto garantiza que los cultivos de frutas y verduras tengan suficiente espacio para que crezcan sus raíces sin entrar en contacto o mezclarse con la tierra existente del sitio. Las camas de cultivo elevadas de un solo nivel son ideales para cultivar hierbas y verduras de hojas verdes como la arúgula.
- Use guantes cuando esté cultivando y lávese bien las manos después de la jardinería. Sacuda el exceso de suciedad de las botas y la ropa antes de volver a casa.
- Lave bien los vegetales y pele los vegetales de raíz antes de comer.
Próximos Eventos

Asegúrese de anotar en su calendario estos eventos divertidos que se realizarán este año.

Open Garden Day NYC – 20 de junio

REPROGRAMADO PARA EL 1 DE AGOSTO. ESTE EVENTO SERÁ VIRTUAL.

Estamos buscando jardines comunitarios en la ciudad para que participen en el tercer evento anual Open Garden Day NYC. Los jardines deberán abrir sus puertas al público de 11:00 a.m. a 3:00 p.m. el sábado 20 de junio (sin importar el clima). Su grupo de jardinería puede participar organizando una actividad o evento gratuito para el público. Las actividades pueden incluir arte y artesanías, presentaciones musicales, compost, siembra, una demostración de comida o cualquier actividad que le gustaría realizar. El año pasado participaron más de 100 jardines, con actividades como armado de terrarios, clases de yoga, clases de jardinería y presentaciones musicales.

Make Music New York – 21 de junio

CANCELADO

Traiga música al jardín el día 21 de junio como parte de Make Music New York, un evento anual durante el Solsticio de Verano, el día más largo del año. ¡Cada año este festival trae música a espacios públicos a todas partes de la ciudad! Para que haya una presentación en su jardín, inscribase en bit.ly/MMNY2020SignUp o visite nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb para más información.

Feria de Cosecha (Harvest Fair)

ESTE EVENTO SERÁ VIRTUAL

Resérvese el sábado 26 de septiembre para asistir a la 41a Feria Anual de Cosecha de GreenThumb. ¡Manténgase en contacto para saber dónde se realizará el evento y otros detalles!

El Programa de GreenThumb “Ayude a que un Jardín Crezca”

Busca Voluntarios para Proyectos de Jardinería

¡Únase como voluntario a los jardineros de GreenThumb en toda la ciudad ya sea con su empresa, escuela u otro grupo comunitario! Los grupos de voluntarios pueden ayudar a fortalecer jardines comunitarios a través de actividades como sacar la maleza; esparcir astillas de madera, sembrar flores, bulbos o arbustos; limpiar jardines; crear camas elevadas; proporcionar mantenimiento general dentro de los jardines; y otros proyectos especiales. Al trabajar con los jardines, los voluntarios pueden participar en sostenibilidad, planificación valiosa y enriquecimiento de la estructura cultural de la ciudad de Nueva York.

Para obtener más información o para ser voluntario con su grupo en un jardín de GreenThumb, póngase en contacto con la coordinadora de proyectos y diseño Babbie Dunnington por el correo electrónico Babbie.Dunnington@parks.nyc.gov o por el (212) 602-5330.

Los jardines GreenThumb pueden solicitar un día de trabajo voluntario poniéndose en contacto con su Coordinador Comunitario.
¡Únase a NYC Parks GreenThumb para celebrar nuestra 36a conferencia anual GrowTogether, que dará comienzo a la temporada de jardinería comunitaria en la ciudad de Nueva York! El día estará lleno de talleres sobre temas relacionados con la jardinería, que incluyen: sistemas de alimentos, técnicas de cultivo, paneles de discusión y mucho más.

¡DOS DÍAS! Sábado, 4 de abril y domingo 5 de abril de 2020*

*Evento cancelado pero ambas presentaciones principales fueron transmitidas en línea durante el Día de la Tierra, y muchos talleres fueron ofrecidos como talleres virtuales.

Organización para lograr el éxito del jardín: Estructura de grupo (Parte 1 de 2)

GreenThumb

La desorganización genera disfunción. Esta serie de talleres de dos partes está diseñada para ayudar a su grupo de jardín a desarrollar una base sólida que se encargue de los numerosos problemas que surgen en un espacio comunitario. En el taller, analizaremos los diferentes estilos de la estructura de grupo y la manera en la que pueden ayudar a atenuar los procesos estresantes de toma de decisiones y los problemas con la gestión del jardín. Los jardineros registrados de GreenThumb que cumplen con los requisitos y que asistan a ambas sesiones podrán recibir un libro gratis que compartirán con su grupo de jardín (uno por grupo de jardín, hasta agotar las existencias).

Se requiere inscripción previa en nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb o llame al (212) 602-5300

Traiga una identificación personal con foto y deje un margen de tiempo para la revisión de seguridad.

Diseño y Preservación de Lugares (Parte 1 de 2)
GreenThumb

La preservación y creación de lugares son procesos prácticos y colaborativos centrados en el cuidado y mantenimiento de un lugar y su tejido social por parte de los miembros de la comunidad. En este taller de dos partes, aprenderá a cómo incorporar estos principios en su jardín y cómo enfrentar los retos de diseño con algunas guías prácticas que puede utilizar con su grupo y con las comunidades con las que trabaja. La Parte I discutirá la preservación y creación de lugares como procesos que pueden ser aplicados a crear espacios públicos más inclusivos al mismo tiempo que se mantienen vivas las memorias del jardín al trabajar de manera colectiva.

Se requiere inscripción previa en nyc.gov/parks/greenthumb o llame al (212) 602-5300.

Escuela del Huerto Frutal Abierto (Open Orchard School):
Manejo orgánico de plagas y enfermedades en los árboles frutales
The Trust for Governors Island, Sam Van Aken del Huerto Frutal Abierto (The Open Orchard), y GreenThumb

¿Tienen sus árboles frutales manchas, hojas enroscadas u otros problemas complicados que evitan que su jardín tenga una cosecha abundante de frutas? Aprenda sobre plagas y enfermedades frecuentes que afectan a los árboles frutales en NYC y qué hacer al respecto. Los miembros de los jardines comunitarios registrados con GreenThumb que cumplan con los requisitos podrán recibir suministros para el manejo de plagas.

Este taller forma parte de la Escuela del Huerto Frutal Abierto (Open Orchard School), una serie anual de programas educativos presentados en conjunto por NYC Parks GreenThumb y The Trust for Governors Island. Para más información sobre el proyecto y la serie de talleres, revise la sección de anuncios en la página 17 o visite bit.ly/GreenThumbTrainings.

Cuidado de los árboles frutales

Bronx Green-Up de New York Botanical Garden y GreenThumb

¿Alguna vez se preguntó qué puede hacer para lograr una gran cosecha con los árboles frutales de su jardín? Este taller abarcará los conocimientos básicos para mantener árboles frutales saludables durante todo el año con un énfasis en la temporada actual de primavera. Abarcaremos las mejores prácticas para sacarle el mayor provecho a la producción de frutas. Los participantes tendrán la oportunidad de obtener experiencia práctica en la evaluación y el cuidado de los árboles frutales en un jardín comunitario. Los miembros de los jardines comunitarios registrados con GreenThumb que cumplan con los requisitos podrán recibir una herramienta manual pequeña para podar árboles, hasta agotar existencias.

Garden Highlight: La Isla Community Garden

La Isla Community Garden (LICG) is well known in the Highbridge neighborhood of the Bronx as being a space that advocates for youth and social justice. In 2003, Zonia Ortiz and a group of neighbors reactivated this community garden space and formed the youth group La Isla Garden Greenies, who assist with the stewardship of the garden every year and engage in experiential learning through hands-on gardening projects. In addition to providing opportunities for young people, LICG also hosts events such as bookbag drives, tree lighting, toy giveaways, participatory budgeting information sessions, and much more.

Nestled between two buildings, LICG breathes life into the neighborhood with its numerous fruit trees, wide array of annual flowers like zinnias and marigolds, and all the usual garden favorites such as tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, squashes, basil, and melons. Garden members share these fresh vegetables and herbs with the community, particularly senior citizens and families with financial difficulties. The garden group also actively promotes sustainable initiatives such as composting and rainwater catchment. Most importantly, LICG is committed to highlighting the cultural diversity of their neighborhood and ensuring that the garden is a safe haven for all.
